

Leicester, Saturday May 30. 1846.

Dear Miss Carpenter,

I have time for but a few lines. A letter from Mr. Estlin, received by last Steamship, speaks of a parcel as coming from you to me, or to Crosby & Nichols. No such parcel has been received by me, or C. & N., as Mr. Nichols informed me, - I did not see Mr. Crosby. - Mrs. Follen will send her copy of the "Meditations" to Crosby & N., for the printers' use. I did not like to part with mine, for several reasons. You will, I doubt not, make good to her the offer you made to me of sending a copy of the 2^d edition to replace it. Mrs. F. intends writing you by 1st June Ship. Crosby & Co. will commence the re-print without delay. I will do all I can to ~~see~~ have your directions complied with. Your little note of Apr. 16th was received through Mr. Waterston. The 6 copies to the Fair were received. Please offer my respects to your sister Susan, and ask Miss Anna to pardon me for asserting so roundly my acquaintance with her. I desire my respects to her, notwithstanding, and also to your Mother. Pray ~~remember~~ continue to remember me with your great kindness, and believe me, Yours, Samuel May.
